I was born in February 1908. During the following month Mothers' Day was celebrated for the first time. People in those days were quick to recognize events of special significance.

I wonder if Andy knows that Millard Fillmore was born on January 7th.

Do birds have grandpas? I think not because I have never known a grandpa who could fly.

Doing something nice for others will make you a better person and make you feel good. To find out if this is true, you will have to try it. If you are a little kid, a good way to start is to practice it on your mom and dad.

Grandpas are old kids who laugh funny. Heh, heh, heh.

Can anyone tell me when Schuyler Colfax was born?

If you think that today's inflation is the worst possible economic condition, you are too young to remember the 1930s.

Who was president when Adlai E. Stevenson served as vice president?

If every one on welfare would suddenly become self supporting who would we have to look down on?

Grandpas' memories fail before they do. They think that they remember when they were good little boys.

If you think that world wide peace will be easy to come by, try to establish peace within a warring church - or try to resolve a feud between next door neighbors.

Hopefully, the hope that the word "hopefully" will be used exclusively as an adverb is not a hopeless dream.

Poker players beware! Women Libbers would have 3 queens beating 3 kings.

If you have a quarrel with a friend and you want to get even, here is a good way to do it. Apologize.

Grandpas are old geezers who sometimes shed happy tears just thinking of their grandchildren.
